October is Adopt A Shelter Dog Month.
What better time to add to your family!?

RESCUE SPOTLIGHT

Coco is a 5 - 6 year old female Boxer. She is great with all people and very affectionate. She likes to have fun, playing or going on long walks; but she also loves to relax and cuddle. Coco is ready for her forever home!

If you're interested in making Coco a part of your family, call 1-800-964-7297.

THE GREAT PUMPKIN

PUMPKIN DOES A DOGGY GOOD

Pumpkin is a popular staple of the fall season, but here at Paws pumpkin is a favorite all year round for it's amazing health benefits! Did you know that adding pumpkin to your pup's diet could provide the following health benefits?

DIETARY SUPPLEMENT

Pumpkin is loaded with lots of important vitamins and minerals, including vitamin E, vitamin A, potassium, magnesium, essential fatty acids, and antioxidants. Added bonus, pumpkin is low in cholesterol, sodium, and saturated fat, making this a tasty and healthy treat!

WEIGHT STABILIZER

For dogs with a little too much meat on their bones, try adding pumpkin to their diet for healthy weight loss. Pumpkin is a great source of natural fiber and will keep your dog feeling full even if he or she is eating less than they're used to.

DIGESTIVE AID

Pumpkin can work wonders for dogs suffering from digestive issues. Pumpkin works to absorb the excess water in your dog's loose stool to firm it up, but can also soften excessively firm stools. Incorporating just a tablespoon or two into your dog's daily diet can help regulate diarrhea, constipation, and simple upset tummies.

ADDING PUMPKIN

Incorporating pumpkin into your dog's daily diet is as easy as pie. You can make your own pumpkin puree or simply buy the canned stuff. Pumpkin puree is available all year around, just make sure you're not purchasing sugary pie filling.

And, as always, consult with your vet before introducing any new foods into your dog's diet.
